INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use scissors to cut the NCR paper pattern down so it's easier to transfer onto the piece.
2. Place the NCR paper pattern on top of the plate and firmly trace over the lines using a ballpoint pen. You don't need to trace the letters now; we will trace them later.
3. Use a liner brush to apply a thin line of Banana Boat to the edge of the tin. If helpful, use the photo as a reference.
4. Use a liner brush to fill in the fish with three coats of paint:
 - a. Top of the fish - Banana Boat
 - b. Bottom of the fish - Gecko Green
 - c. Face of the fish - Pumpkin Pie.
5. Paint the tin lid (painting around the oval in the center) with three generous coats of Pumpkin Pie.
6. Fill in the fish in the center of the oval with three coats of Gecko Green.
7. Using the photo as a guide, use a liner brush to apply three generous coats of Red Hot to the bottom section of the tin.
8. Fill in the roll in the lid with three generous coats of Blush.
9. Paint the space around the fish with three generous coats of Saffire.
10. Use a liner brush to apply the red details: the line around the oval, the scales on all of the fish, the mouths on all of the fish, and the spiral on the bottom of the rolled lid.
11. When the top of the plate is dry, use the NCR pattern to trace on the lettering. Use a detail brush to apply the letters using Saffire paint.
12. Next, use the liner brush again to apply a thin line of Blue Lagoon on the orange lid as well as the eye and line on the fish in the oval.
13. Finally, dip the handle of the detail brush into Snowflake and tap a dot on each fish for the eye. The dip the handle into Deep Sea and put a smaller dot inside each white dot.

TIPS

- Apply three generous coats of paint in order to get solid colors.
- When using the liner brush, you can thin down the paint slightly to help the lines flow more easily.
